The March number of the Live Stock Monthly is not only gotten up in fine style but the articles in it are valuable. It contains just such information as every one interested in Live Stock wants. address Live Stock Publishing Co., Portland, Me.

We received this week the promised flowers from Dr. O. N. Bradbury, which have grown in the fields this spring at Yarmouth, S. C. There are some half dozen varieties and were very fragrant and quite fresh when we opened them up.

An evening of fun at the Universalist Circle next Wednesday. Demmett, the humorist who so pleases the audience at the High School entertainment, and whom so many wished to hear again, will be present. Music will be furnished by some young men of this village. Five cents above the usual rates will be charged this time. 15 cents for adults and 10 cents for children. Entertainment begins at 8 o'clock.

This annual report of the officers of the town of Norway has been issued. It shows that the total value of personal and real estate is $385,821.00, and that there are 638 polls. The whole amount of tax assessed was $12,662.89 or twelve and one-half cents on the dollar. The whole amount of school money raised from the various sources, $1,153.63. The amount in the several districts now expended is $1,032.39. The highway tax was $3,460.—$300 of which was raised in money and $1,160 of this money highway tax has been expended. The "town expense account" boots up $8,024.91, and of this amount $230.17 was for the town taxes collected before Sept. 1st, $342.79 was for abatements for '78, '79, '80 and '81, and $7,172.24 for interest paid on outstanding orders. The expense for poor of the town has been $7,171.74 and $219.05 has been paid for "poor of other towns." The expenses on the town farm have been $718.88 and the amount of money realized from the farm $422.74, a balance against the farm of $296.14, and according to these figures it has taken $1,286.91 to care for the poor of the town for the current year, in excess of what was realized from the Town Farm. Add $422.74 what was realized from the farm, which will carry up that institution and it makes $1,709.65 as the amount of money expended for the poor of the town. Should we increase this amount by the interest on the investment of stock, produce, farming tools, etc. as per inventory the care of town poor would come close up to $2,000 per year. The Treasurer's report shows that the balance due from the collector at the commencement of the year was $6,457.47 and at the close of this year is $5,457.53 due. The amount of outstanding orders is $8,704.32. The total liability of the town is $25,523.71; assets, $21,149.53; leaves a balance against the town of $4,374.18. The school report is an interesting document and should be carefully read by every citizen. It recommends the town to raise $2,500 for the support of the schools the coming year and quotes the statute law relative to school attending, at least 12 weeks of public school during the year. The number of scholars between the ages of nine and fifteen who have not attended school during the year is 20. The whole number of scholars attending school during the year is 513. The number of scholars in the town last April was 694. The tabular statement of the schools shows that the average price of board for the teachers is about $1.50 per week. The lowest board was in district No. 10, .88 per week, the highest $2.00 per week. The smallest wages were in districts 1 and 2, —$1.75 per week. In district No. 1, Miss Ives Flint got $1.75 per week and the average attendance was 14. The same teacher received $4.00 per week, and instructed the same number of scholars in district No. 13 in the winter term. Miss Flint's board in this district cost $2.00 per week while in district No. 1 it took only $1.20 to pay her board.

Mr. J. A. Bolster has moved into his house on Beal Street.

Town meeting runs is over and we take a long breath.

Wanted to get a correspondent at the Hub.

Capt. Sanborn has something to say about his cow in another column.

Noyes' Drug Store advertises small lots of room paper for sale for the next few days.

Mr. F. H. Pike of Bolster's Mills, informs us the report that he was going to move his clothing business to Oxford, as stated in some of the newspapers recently, was entirely unknown to him. He does not intend to move his business from Bolster's Mills.

Calico Ball next Monday evening. Tickets for supper at the Beal's House 50 cents per couple instead of 60 cents each as we accidentally said last week. Tickets to the dance $1.00.

A Drama and Farce is in preparation under charge of Mr. F. C. Briggs and will be given soon at Norway Hall for the benefit of the Universalist Society. Pride and confidence will be talked about at the Universalist Church next Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

The Boston Daily Advertiser has moved into their new marble building, and celebrated the event by issuing a twenty-page paper, giving a history of the paper which goes back seventy years. We are glad to see the Advertiser prospering, and any paper that has stood the storms of seventy winters is entitled to a marble monument.

The legal voters of the town of Norway are requested by the town committee to meet at Norway Hall, Mar. 3d, at 2 o'clock P. M., to nominate town officers for the ensuing year.

Mr. Simon Drake, of the ADVERTISER office has moved into Mrs. Philip Chase's house.

The Norway Dramatic club at Harrison, Saturday evening last had a good house and presented "Still Waters run Deep" to the satisfaction of all.

The second number of the first volume of the Grand Army Magazine is on our table. It is an illustrated monthly periodical, devoted to the veterans of the republic and their sons. It contains some 70 pages of interesting reading matter which consists of stories, sketches, reminiscences, etc. Terms $3 a year in advance, single copies 25cts. Windsor Hotel, Denver, Col.

The dramatic entertainment at Norway Hall last Friday evening drew a full house. It passed off very pleasantly and reflected much credit on the dramatic talent of Norway. Perhaps the highest praise we can give is, the audience was interested to the close which was quite late. As is often the case in amateur dramatic entertainments, the only objectionable feature in this was the length of the program. In the drama "Still Waters run Deep" there was good acting and all the parts were well sustained. The farce "Slasher and Crusher" did what was intended it should do, made every one laugh. It placed its actors in many ludicrous and hardly conceivable positions. The Norway orchestra as usual furnished good music.

Thursday Feb. 22, about 2 o'clock in the afternoon the main shaft at the shoe factory broke, and all who depended on power to run their machines had to quit work and wait for repairs. They were so short of time that the next morning all went to work as usual.

Gov. Robie has accepted the invitation of the Harry Post Post, G. A. R., Norway, to be present and deliver the address on Memorial Day, May 30th. Other members of the G. A. R. are expected. It is believed all the Grangers of the County will be present. The procession will probably be the largest ever witnessed in Norway.

Daniel Harmon has received for hatching at the fish pond below the village, 130,000 salmon eggs, and he informs us he expects soon, 60,000 eggs more.

Seven hundred dollars have been raised towards paying the $800 debt on the Universalist Church.

Tuesday, Feb. 20th, the children and grand children and great grand children met at the residence of Mrs. Nancy Faunce, on Pleasant Street of this village, to celebrate her 85th birthday. There were present two children, there are living, also eight grand children, and four great grand children. After partaking of a bountiful repast the time was spent in social chat, a short speech from E. P. Hutchinson, singing and declamation by the grand children and great grand children, which all seemed to enjoy. It was hard telling which enjoyed it most the children or the visitors. The mother seems to retain her faculties remarkably. Her mind is as clear as one 20 years young. She can read without the aid of glasses and converse as readily as ever. At half past nine the company dispersed feeling well paid.

The March number of the Atlantic Monthly is at hand. It is what it claims to be, a magazine of literature, science, art and politics. This number contains, Michael Angelo, part third, by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow; In Carlyle's Country, by John Burroughs; Antagonism, by Agnes Paton; The Legend of Walbach Tower, by George MacDonald; The Horse Cars into Mexico, by H. H.; Recent Works on English Literature; Recent Poetry, etc. One year $4; Single copy 35c. 11 East 17 Street, New York.

J. M. Cummings, stable keeper, South Portland and Norway, promises to advertise in this paper. A whole column for next week. 100 horses and 200 vehicles. You are always welcome. Call on us when in town.

Old paper for sale at this office. The dedication concert and ball was largely attended Monday evening. Everyone is pleased with Norway Hall, and the directors and stockholders of the Building Association have well earned the many compliments bestowed upon them. Norway now boasts as good a hall as any in the State and will not except the new hall at Farmington, which was dedicated last week.

The many friends of Geo. H. Watkins, esq., editor of the Oxford Democrat, will learn with great regret of his bereavement by the death of his wife, which occurred on Thursday 22d. The last but one of the family left at his decease. Mrs. W. was a lady of estimable qualities, and beloved by a wide circle of acquaintances. She leaves three small children.—Journal.

To Balloo's for March, the hero in "The Belle of Australia," Mr. Thomas' great story, appears to be in a peculiar position. He is in the presence of his prospective father-in-law; and, as the young man does not wish to marry, there is a stormy and laughable scene at the same time. The Chief of Malbourne police seems to be taking a hand in the matter. Price $1.50; 15c a copy. 23 Hawley St., Boston, Mass.

A. L. Hobbs, the expressman has safely arrived in California and has ordered the ADVERTISER. He thinks he is to like.

Read Noyes' Drug store ads.

In another column we publish a personal letter from "Dick" Clement, which will be read with interest by his many friends here. We hope "Dick" will pardon us for taking the liberty to print his letter and we will promise to do so no more unless he should write another letter.

The blacksmith's convention at the Elm House Wednesday was well attended. Some 20 present and a school of prices was adopted to take effect after the 10th of this month. The resolutions of the convention were unanimous. The tariff is shortly to be printed and posted. Some of the former prices of work were not changed but owing to the advance in shoeing stock a slight rise was made for shoeing. Re-setting shoes and the re-setting of some kinds of wheel-tires remains the same. See schedule of prices in another column.

Allen wants to sell boots, shoes and rubbers. During the coming month, he will put the knife into the prices. Call and see him. See ad. He means business. If you want anything to wear on your feet jump on him.

The Oxford Co. Agricultural Society will hold a Farmer's Institute at George Hall, Norway, Wednesday, March 7th. Notice received too late for us to give program.

Exchanging umbrellas at a prayer meeting, is very improper and wicked; and we hope the individual that took a large one from the Methodist church last Sunday evening, leaving a smaller and poorer one in place of it, will rectify the mistake without any further comments.

Mrs. H. L. Horne started for Massachusetts yesterday, to spend a few weeks with her friends there.

The following was taken from Zion's Advocate. Mr. Betts was well known in this vicinity. Mr. B. was the father of Mrs. H. E. Small and the late Mrs. L. A. Higgins: There died in Turner, Me., on the 10th of February, Mr. Owen Betts, eighty-five years old. He was born in Minot, Me., March 2, 1793. He was among the few of the original Washingtonian temperance men, having joined them in the early years of their organization and remained true as a temperance soldier to the last. He was remarkable as being one of a number, now too few, who worked as well talked to, for sobriety. In these older times, travelers had him; he repeatedly went into the room-shops of Turner, taking by the arm some man already overcome with liquor, led him to his (Betts') home, and kept him there till he was sober and got him to sign the pledge. His wife, looking out of the window would see him coming with a drunken man on each side of her, and she would exclaim, "It is coming with more drunks and we have just sent away the last." "Well," he would answer, "this soul is worth saving." In this way he took to his home and kept for a long time a fearful drunkard, till he cured him of his habit; and the man then miserably poor, became a most remarkably gifted and useful man. It seems just that something of such a life should go on the pages of our history. The father and mother, united with the church.

Communication.

Mr. Editor: I observed in your last issue a sketch of the butter productiveness of my cow. I neither authorized its publication nor knew it was to appear, but I will set the thing right. My cow is a grade, Jersey, of accurate measure, the cream from which we churned 14 lbs. of butter, being 1 1/2 lbs. to the quart, or in other words, 1 lb. of butter from 95 qts. of milk. The cow is a grade, Jersey, the feed was 1 qt. of corn meal and the same of shorts twice a day with second quality hay.

ALBERT SANBORN.
